- NO MILEAGE
- NO PENSION
- NO PER DIEM
- NO TRAVEL EXPENSES

Keeping in mind that legislative pay and perks come from YOUR tax dollars, I have honored this four-part pledge when it comes to compensation:

No Mileage: I don't request any payment for driving to the Capitol on session days or for hearings, going to my district offices, or traveling on legislative business. I see travel as a regular part of my job, just as you commute to work without being paid mileage for it.

No Pension: I am among a handful of Pennsylvania legislators who have refused accepting a state pension, which I believe is clearly prohibited by Article II, Section 8 of the state constitution: With Pennsylvania burdened by $60 billion and counting in pension debt, not taking a pension is the responsible thing to do.

No Per Diem or Travel Expenses: I don't receive “extra” pay by taking per diems, which in many ways have been abused and become something of a racket. I further don't seek reimbursement for any travel costs (hotel rooms, meals, etc.) when attending legislative hearings around the state. Again, this is part of my job, and my salary (your tax dollars) can cover it without any need to double-dip into more tax dollars.

TRANSPORTATION COMMITTEE APPOINTMENT

I was recently named to serve on the House Transportation Committee — a key position given the mountain of deferred highway projects across the 86th Legislative District, and the fact that more than 70 percent of residents in Perry and Juniata counties commute outside the district to go to work every day.

The House Transportation Committee plays a crucial role in shaping legislation related to highway infrastructure, funding allocations, and other critical issues. My involvement provides our region a voice that can have a significant impact not only on our roads, bridges, and railways, but also on local economic development projects.

Along with Transportation, I also sit on the Commerce Committee (where I serve as Republican secretary), Environmental Resources & Energy Committee, and Labor & Industry Committee, including the Labor & Industry Employment and Unemployment Compensation Subcommittee.
